In Loving Memory of Norma Bills.

I came to Crossfield some time ago,
And visited with friends you used to know
They led me to that dear sweet spot
You chose
To turn to when life should have
to close;
And there you lay in death as life to me,
A loving Pal, a tender Memory.
Yes, there you live - no longer body tired,
Doing the tasks that Nature had required
Keeping the contracts to the final word.
Just riding range or rounding up the herd
Not in the flesh - whence ever hope seems vain -
But in the spirit where there is no pain.
Yes, there you live in memories' precious thought,
In lasting things which grateful hearts
have wrought,
In school, in home, in park they hear
your name.
In eyes that shine and tongues that tell
your fame,
Chatting with neighbors when chores
were done,
The peace you dreamed of, and longed
for, won.
You are not alone lying out there,
God is always mindful of your prayer.
He took your spirit to a sweet repose
That showed in your face in that last,
last pose,
It left us standing lonely there,
With only love for you and a touch of your hair.

—By Grandmother Bills.

The following is the text of a telegram sent to Premier Bracken, Chairman of the Wheat Conference, August 14, 1940.

"The Crossfield and District Board of Trade resolve that as the storage capacity of elevators for this district is 235,000 bushels and the wheat acreage in crop is 22,000 acres: that available storage capacity exceeds 5 bushels per acre quota and request that the quota be raised from 5 to 10 bushels per acre. As Oats and Barley are mostly fed to stock locally no permits be given for storage of feed grains. Also, that provision be made to advance part payment for wheat held in storage on farms."

An Exceptionally Good Trip

Elevator Men and Junior Wheat Club Boys Make Inspection Trip

A. McMillan, O.E. Jones, and M. Huston, accompanied by the boys of the Junior Wheat Club, visited the different plots of grain taking in the west side of the district before noon, arriving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O.E. Jones where a lovely dinner had been prepared by Mrs. Jones. After dinner they took in the east side of the district. Most of these plots were very good and a few of them were exceptionally well looked after. The party dispersed about 6.30 in the evening having covered over 100 miles and report all crops very good throughout the whole district.

A FEATHERED REFUGEE

It was on a rather windy day about a month ago at the Edlund home, in fact it was too windy for Ma and Pa Robin to hold that nest of four hungry offspring and one was finally tossed out. However, it found sympathetic friends in the Edlund family who promptly gave it shelter in an improvised nest. The trouble was the feeding of this refugee, for the young robin called for worms and lots of them, so much that for two weeks Alf, was seen digging his garden over every morning about 5 a.m. in search of the wherewithal to appease the youngster's appetite. During the day when Alf, was at business, Mrs. Edlund had to supply the needs of existence.

The youngster has now developed into a full-fledged robin and is able to help itself to food and is to be seen at any hour of the day enjoying the surroundings of the Edlund home. The only worry now is that if "Peeko" (the name given the feathered boarder) decides to stay around for the winter, who will dig the worms and where. If he decides to go to a warmer climate and comes back in the springtime, he will be known by the leg-band which has been placed on his leg and the Edlunds promise him a welcome reception and will be willing to help him find worms again.

According to Canadian Naval Headquarters, it is possible some officers of the Royal Canadian Volunteer Reserve now in England, at the disposal of the British Admiralty, may be assigned to French warships taken over by the Royal Navy. These officers were recently commended for "keenness and bearing".

Village Council Meeting

The August meeting of the Village Council was held August 12 in the Council Chambers, with Mayor Wood and Councillors C. Asmusen and W. A. Hurt present.

The meeting opened with the reading of the minutes of previous meeting, which was approved as read.

Everett Bills suggested that the Council assist him in paying for the culvert built from his property to the highway. The council agreed to allow Mr. Bills one third of the cost, which was acceptable.

C. H. McMillan drew the attention of the council to the fact that each spring the water did not drain off from the street in front of the Masonic hall and was of the opinion that with the removal of some earth and lowering the street, this could be corrected. The council promised to make a survey of that section of the street and see what could be done.

The council approved of allowing the Reserve Defence Organization the use of the Council Chambers for meetings.

A communication from Turner Valley re oil for roads was read and tabled for further reference.

The report of Sanitary Inspector was read and accepted as very satisfactory.

Quite a number of complaints have been made in the past regarding the boys and girls riding their bicycles on the sidewalks. This is a very dangerous practice and the Council approved that anyone found riding on the sidewalk shall have their bicycle taken away and locked up for one week.

The personnel of the Fire Brigade was checked up and arrangements made for any vacancy made by local men in the Army.

Bylaw No. 80, prohibiting Tractor Engines or other machinery with lugs to run over street crossings without first protecting such crossing with 2-inch planks, received its final reading.

The council was of the opinion that signs should be placed at all cement crossings: "Machinery with lugs prohibited on this crossing". Council requested that prices be obtained on such signs.

All accounts approved were ordered paid.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

The following methods are used by experienced seed growers in threshing the stocks from a seed plot.

If the plot consists of wheat,
then thresh after oats, or if of oats
then thresh after wheat.

Next, run the threshing machine idle for about ten minutes, then clean out the two bottom augers;
some machines have pans under the augers which can be removed,
but if not, then a doubled up sack can be placed in the worm and turned by hand through the auger; this operation will remove the grain.

Next, the operator should enter the machine and with a wire hook and a small whisk broom should clean out the grain which will be found lodged on ledges and in crevices. After this the separator should be run again for a minute or two.

The first two bushels of the new seed should be discarded and the seed preferably should be sacked direct from the spout. If a bin is used it should be thoroughly cleaned out and should contain only the seed grain being threshed.

Needless to say the racks which are used to haul the stocks to the threshing machine should be thoroughly swept out and kernels of old grain picked out of the cracks.

Following factors have tended to raise price: Due to poor crop prospects bread grain deficiency in Europe may reach 400 million bushels—British Food Ministry agrees to buy 100 million bushels of Canadian wheat—Harvesting in France, Belgium and Holland is being made difficult due to shortage of labor.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Official estimates of Japanese wheat crop show a 1% increase over last year's record crop—A good surplus of corn is anticipated in the Balkans—
Wheat harvest in Great Britain expected to be larger than last year—Searle precipitation report number 16 shows a 2 percent increase in moisture supply.

HELP THE RED CROSS!

FARMERS ADVISED NOT TO HARVEST IMMATURE GRAIN

The following announcement has been issued by Hon. D. B. Mullen, Minister of Agriculture for Alberta: "If favourable climatic conditions continue, Alberta will harvest one of the largest grain crops in the history of the Province. Due to the limited elevator facilities, storage space will be at a premium."

"In order to utilize to best advantage the limited available storage space, I would urge farmers to allow their grain to properly ripen and have it threshed in a condition fit for storage. In past years it has been possible to place grain carrying a high percentage of moisture in elevators where it is processed to reduce the moisture content, thus avoiding deterioration. With the shortage of elevator storage space now in prospect, both in country and terminal elevators, it will be impossible to obtain the space that is necessary to process tough or damp grain. I would therefore urge that farmers protect themselves against financial loss, and assist in conserving storage space by delaying their cutting until their crops are thoroughly ripened. Crops should be taken that all grain be threshed in such a manner as to free it of all green weed seeds which cause bin burning and result in loss of grade. Where grain is threshed damp or tough it should be stored upon the farm until it is in satisfactory marketing condition. Further, if grain contains a large amount of green weed seeds, it should be threshed in such a manner as to avoid the weeds being delivered with the grain. If grain contains such weed seeds it should be re-cleaned to avoid loss when marketed."

LINE ELEVATORS TO BUILD ADDED STORAGE SPACE

Bins With A Capacity Of 15,000,000 Bushels To Be Erected

In order to assist in relieving the acute shortage of storage space brought about by congestion of grain in Canada, Line country elevators will build approximately 750 temporary storage bins through out Western Canada. This announcement was made today by the North-West Line Elevators Association. The bins will have a capacity ranging from 20,000 to 40,000 bushels each. Total capacity will exceed 15,000,000 bushels.

A delegation representing the Line Elevators Association has just return from Ottawa. While at the capitol they discussed grain matters with the Minister of Trade and Commerce. Assurance was given the Government that the Line Elevator Companies would do everything in their power to assist in meeting wheat problems of Canada which have been accentuated by the War. The building of temporary storage bins in the country was one of the proposals of the Association. This will aid the farmers in marketing substantial additional quantities of grain.

There are 5,672 country elevators in Western Canada with a storage capacity of 189,422,000 bushels. The average capacity of these elevators is 35,000 bushels. Total capacity of all terminal and country elevators in Canada is 422,824,220 bushels.

The Government Lumber Controller is co-operating with the Elevator companies in moving forward lumber to country points for the erection of the temporary bins. Approximately 15,000,000 feet of lumber will be required for the construction of the bins, in addition to many tons of the rods, nails and roofing materials.
